I had the pleasure of riding Windy in her first and my first endurance ride. Less than two years later she became my horse and we have built a wonderful bond. Windy has a total of 1400 limited distance miles and 1260 endurance miles.

She is an all purpose horse, she loves working cows, jumping, and is a strong battle horse. Windy helped me start my endurance riding career. During an endurance ride in south Georgia Windy took such good care of me. We were trotting out nicely down the trail and at this point in the ride we were alone. She fell in a hole and down we went. Windy landed sideways on her right side, crushing my right leg. I saw her body about to roll over and was going to crush me had she continued. I could tell Windy did everything in her means to keep from flipping over. She jumped up and trotted off. I was lying there in extreme pain, saying, "Windy please come back, don't leave me." That little red mare turned around and came back. I managed to get back on and make it back to camp. I ended up not being hurt at all. It was amazing what that girl did to protect me.

She is a phenomenal athlete and I enjoy every ride I have with her. I am so proud of our accomplishment and my wonderful teammate.
